manufacturing town, and the cosy homes, was devastated yesterday. The north of the town came as se into the valley with a panic and caused the houses to be left and sought shelter. In the space of a quarter of an hour six feet in the low one to three feet in the hills in the heart of the country. The trees were stripped of their leaves, the fences torn up, and the houses were blown away. Fortunately no lives were lost, and the few businesses escaped. The gold mines to the value of $100,000 were ruined. The houses were destroyed and sand and gravel pits were filled with several inches covered with a layer of ash. The town of the place a great

at Cunningham of the Street Department Will Not Resign.

PLAN FOR THE REORGANIZATION OF THE ENTIRE DEPARTMENT.

Mr. Murphy Makes Some Vague Explanations—How It Is to Be Done—A Meeting to Secure $100,000—The Speculation Over What the Council Will Do To-Night—Municipal Matters.

If a cyclone had struck the Street Department to-day the consternation could not have been greater than it was when the story came to the surface that a clean sweep was to be made, as to the facts in the case there is not an atom of doubt. Maj. Murphy will fix his department to suit the Administration. The first move was made some time back, but it caused such a disturbance that it was abandoned for a while, but now it has been given up. The Street Commissioner has been working quietly with certain objects in view, and to-day he can come very near making the police weight of every man under him. This includes the vast army of street laborers, day men, monthly men and other men from top to bottom.

The department would have been changed without a hitch had it not been for the pervasiveness of some who refused to step down and out. The department was plainly that if they were to go the only way to get them out would be to "fire" them. Among these are Messrs. Cunningham and Thien. Maj. Murphy does not like to have so much fuss made over the changes.

When asked to-day some very plain questions he evaded them somewhat. "Did you ask Supt. Cunningham to resign?" was the first question.

"Mr. Cunningham can resign if he wants to," was the reply.

"Is there any thing against Cunningham, any particular reason why he should go?" "Oh, no, but look at your friend Gilbert, you are praising him for his reforms. It is a good thing to make these changes."

"Is Henry Thien to go too?" "Well there will be a very general shaking up all around."

"No objection to the men?" "No."

"Just want a change?" "Yes."

The two men, Cunningham and Thien, are District Superintendents. They have under them forty to two or three hundred men, according to the reasons. The city is divided into three districts, each with a superintendent. They have the southern, Cunningham, the central and another man named Gunnalls in the northern.

These three men are in a measure the keystone of the employment department. It is to them that all men hunting jobs are sent, and it is for them to find work for them with these changed it will be an easy matter to do the rest.

Cunningham has been imposed upon by the Commissioner. He was used for the purpose of getting information as to the political standing of all the men in his district. This secured work was passed to him down the line that his resignation would be very acceptable. He promptly said that he would not resign.

This was a very awkward thing to do, but he did it. In some way the story got out and to-day every man in the department who did not want to be under the new administration was around to see when his head was to fall.

Mr. Cunningham refused to answer questions on the plea that he did not want to make any more trouble. He admitted that he had refused to resign, but he did not want to discuss the question. Several minor articles submitted quietly and went out some time ago, and got new and strange backing, and are willing to wear the collar, but others were so pronounced in their support of Allen two years ago that they are not to be taken into consideration.

Council Meeting To-Night.

The Council will meet to-night, and having disposed of the appropriation bill, is ready to take hold of the vexing question of the state.

Those most directly interested in the results cannot secure the slightest fact of what will be done, and are just as nervous and disturbed as they were a day before their names did or did not go in.

What the next move in the game between Cunningham and the Council will be, is a matter of the greatest anxiety. Michael Hester, whose name is before the Council for action to-night, is confident that he will be the one to trade in the morning, and even if he does not say so, believes that the combine will stick to him through thick and thin, and if a trade is made he will be the one to get left.

Commissioner Holman, who is still in office and attending to business while the Council is acting, knows what is going on. He does not know where he stands or what will be done. He was asked this morning, "What are the members of the Council going to do with Brown?"

"I don't know and I don't care much now. I have decided that all I have to do is to attend to my business and leave the rest to the Council and the fates."

Capt. Lindsey does not know what the plans are. The Mayor denies having weakened and the solid right of the Council takes the same position. The Mayor's plan is not approved. The Building Commissioner is not approved. The Superintendent of the Mississippi river is not approved. The Mayor is not approved. The Mayor is not approved. The Mayor is not approved.

Harbor Improvement.

The Mayor, Maj. Miller of the Government River Service, Capt. Able, the Harbor Commissioner, and Maj. Murphy, the Street Commissioner, and ex-Harbor Commissioner, talked over the ways and means of securing $100,000 for improving the Mississippi river from St. Louis to Cairo.

The plan is to have the Government make a good big lump sum appropriation for river improvements, as it has been found that small sums at long intervals are simply thrown into the river and wasted.

The gentlemen in the conference to-day talked the matter over and agreed each and every one to use his best efforts to get the plan started and made all the influence of river interests from New Orleans to the headquarters of the Missouri and Mississippi. It was clearly understood that the Mississippi river is a matter of the greatest importance to the State and that it was also decided to have a meeting of the Congress in the State at a time convenient to them all and enlist them in the cause.

The Appropriation Bill.

The House of Delegates is wrestling with the appropriation bill and expects to have the committee report it to-night for final passage. Several of the delegates have been figuring how to work in a little for their own wards or districts, but so far have not succeeded. Delegate Keyes of the Twenty-first Ward was interested in the very landable plan of the Twelfth Street Bridge, but was not very generally appreciated. It was abandoned. It was abandoned. It was abandoned.

stances are such that it would be advisable to wait a month or two and then make an attempt to secure a special appropriation for the purpose. The bridge is needed in very generally conceded, and the only thing to be done now is to secure the money.

"Fakirs" Causing Trouble.

The Mayor's office has been given a good deal of trouble of late by that peculiar class of itinerant peddlers known as "fakirs." These men set up their stands on the streets along about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and by their tricks of slight of hand, tame snakes and other devices attract a crowd and produce to sell their wares. They pay for the privilege of making shops out of the public streets, the sum of 25 cents a month. Within the past two months these fakirs have been very numerous, and all of the business houses in the neighborhood where these men perform are complaining. Numerous complaints have come from Broadway and St. Charles, Twelfth and Olive and other points. A plan will be devised to put up the license fee to such a point that it will be cheaper for them to hire vacant lots.

R. P. I. Meeting.

The Board of Public Improvements held a special meeting to-day at 8 o'clock for the purpose of a large number of street and sewer improvements which are needed. The ordinance will get through the assembly just in time to come under the appropriations in the new bill.

AIMED AT ADAMS.

The Suit of the Short Against the Westinghouse Electric Co.

ADAMS PEOPLE WILL ASK TO BE MADE CO-DEFENDANTS.

A Significant Action Brought in Pittsburgh, Pa., Yesterday—The War Will Be Carried to Cleveland, O., by the St. Louis Company—A Plank Movement to Be Made.

The telegraphic news this morning contains advice of an electric patent suit instituted in the United States District Court at Pittsburgh, Pa. The suit is brought by the Short Electric Railway Co. of Cleveland, O., against the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co. of Pittsburgh, Pa., for alleged infringement of patents owned by complainants or gearless electric motors, both parties to the suit having their motors now in operation in Pittsburgh. The suit has a strong bearing on the United States District Court in this city only last week, and will become a phase of the same.

TO BE MADE CO-DEFENDANTS.

The Adams Electric Co. of St. Louis will next week ask to be made co-defendants with the Westinghouse company in the suit for infringement brought by the Short company. It will also at the same time institute suit against the Short company for infringement of a patent issued to Dr. Wellington Adams covering the gearless motor principle, and to which the officers of the Short company were referred by the Patent Office when it replied for letters patent on an electric gearless motor during the past year.

The officers of the Adams company of St. Louis claim that this action on their part is precipitated by the institution of the Short company charge that the proceedings just begun in Pittsburgh are in reality a friendly litigation between the Short and Westinghouse companies, intended to secure adjudication on certain points of their own which would materially strengthen their positions as defendants in the suit that was to have been brought by the Adams company following a decision in its present suit against the Sprague system.

THE LOCAL ELECTRIC PATENT CLAIMANTS ALSO CHARGE THAT THE SUIT OF THE SHORT CO. WOULD NEVER HAVE BEEN BROUGHT HAD IT NOT BEEN FOR THE OPENING OF THE ADAMS SUITS IN ST. LOUIS.

They give the history of the patent covering the electric gearless motor as follows: The essential idea of the gearless motor was covered by the Adams patent, which was issued in 1884. The Short company, claiming to be the owner of the Adams patent, brought suit against the Westinghouse company, but the court decided in favor of the Adams company.

The Adams company then brought suit against the Short company, claiming that the Short company was infringing on their patent. The court decided in favor of the Adams company.

AN INTERESTING DOCUMENT.
The Will of the Late Gen. Albert Pike Filed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 18.—The will of the late Gen. Albert Pike, Grand Commander of the Scottish Rite Order of Masonry of the Southern Jurisdiction, has been filed. He leaves all articles of personality to trustees for the benefit of the order of which he was Grand Commander, and directs that if any of his children attempt to prevent carrying out this bequest they shall forfeit what is devised to them.

The fee to which he is entitled in the famous Choctaw award reverts to his two sons and daughters and all his real estate in Arkansas to his son, Yvon Pike. The money in the Treasury of the United States arising from the sale under process of confiscation of his property in Little Rock, he wills to the United States, "that they may have an honest title thereto and no longer hold them as the proceeds of plundering under the form of law, and also the indebtedness of the United States to me, for four horses lost by me in the military service of the United States in Mexico."

MISS UNO'S TERRIBLE FLIGHT.
A Snake Chained Attached by a Python and Seriously Injured.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 18.—During the afternoon performance at the sideshow with a circus yesterday, a 14-foot python attacked Miss Uno, the snake charmer, and seriously injured her. The snake was a new acquisition of bad disposition. Miss Uno had wound the snake about her and was about to lift another to her arm when it bit her on the neck and caught her left arm in its jaws. Three attendants at once sprang to her assistance, and it required the united efforts to free her from the horrible embrace of the serpent. The jaws of the reptile had been so pried open before her arm could be released. A physician was called and the wound cauterized, and unless blood poisoning sets in the injury will not be serious. At the time of the accident the tent was packed with people and the excitement was intense. Four ladies fainted and had to be taken into fresh air before they recovered.

A VICTIM OF SCIENCE.

Dr. Lawrence D. Seebree Contracts Consumption in a Peculiar Way.

Dr. Lawrence D. Seebree, a well-known St. Louis physician and a brother of John Seebree of Jefferson City, a State official widely known, is in Berlin, taking the Koch treatment for consumption, which he contracted in a very singular way.

Dr. Seebree began to practice medicine in St. Louis about five years ago, having been graduated by a local medical college. He went through all the city hospitals, spending a year in each, as is the custom of the St. Louis medical students, and while doing this he acquired from Dr. V. Dean, an enthusiastic microscopist, a strong liking for that branch of medical science. When he left the hospital, Dr. Seebree became the partner of Dr. W. E. Fitchell, a physician who has made much local reputation by bringing into prominence the stomach treatment by hot water, and the two became better known than ever by their successful treatment of John W. Norton during his illness a few years ago.

Dr. Dean, after he left the City Hospital, of which he was the Superintendent, began to make a specialty of testing by microscopical spurs for consumption, and Dr. Seebree who often visited him, became interested in the work and began to do it himself in his Washington avenue office. This was a year ago and at that time Dr. Seebree was tall, straight and muscular, a very handsome man of 25 years. He had the specimen of diseased lungs lying on his office, and a victim to his lungs, which form his throat soon began to affect the lungs. He left his work and began to treat himself, at the end of the month of the disease. He found no relief here and a short time ago started for Berlin to try the Koch treatment. On the way he concluded to go to the Adirondacks. News received by his friends here this week is that he did not gain in the mountains and has gone on to Germany.

CRITICISM.

THE popularity of our BOYS' and CHILDREN'S CLOTHING is in direct response to the intelligence and honesty bestowed upon both material and make, upon both fit and fitness, upon both style and service. These elegant garments are away above all "carping criticism," of course; they'll also stand the most intimate inspection of the most inexorable inquisitor. Let the boys come alone if you can't come with them; we'll rig them out subject to your approval.

"Above criticism." Yes, sir, that's just what all our merchandise is—Men's (as well as Boys' and Children's) Suits, Underwear, Hosiery, Neckwear, Shirts, Collars and Cuffs, Handkerchiefs, Suspenders, and so forth. And the more fastidious you are, the more readily will you appreciate their respective excellencies. Congreve cried:

There are some critics so with spleen diseased,
They scarcely come inclining to be pleased;
And sure he must have more than mortal skill,
Who pleases one against his will.

But even such we can satisfy—invariably.

If in need of a Flannel Shirt, Light-Weight Underwear, Puff Bosom Shirt for this Hot Weather, see our lines, and get prices. We can save you money, for Men and Boys.

THE WHISKY TRUST.
Wholesale Liquor Dealers Threaten to Resist Its Arbitrary Control.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 18.—The Whisky Trust, according to statements of reliable wholesale liquor dealers of this city, is in bad straits. The trust controls between eighty and ninety distilleries, which were bought with watered Trust stock. The total amount, which was originally $6,000,000, has since been increased to $8,000,000. In addition they agreed to pay 6 per cent interest annually and 2 per cent additional to those distilleries from which the machinery has been removed. To pay this enormous outlay and carry the tremendous debt the trust only operates about twelve of these establishments, the rest, to put it plainly, rotting away. The price of alcohol and spirits has also been forced up to $1.16 per gallon. Besides the wholesale dealers have to pay the trust 5 per cent on spirits and 10 per cent on alcohol for every gallon they buy, which is returned to them six months after the purchase. That is if they buy all their goods from the trust and made no kicks they get the forfeit back. If, however, it is the other way the trust holds the money. As it costs each dealer something like $12,000 to get out of his working capital under this plan, the trust, it can be seen, has the use of millions without paying a cent of interest. The dealers are heartily tired of this plan, and a break which will undoubtedly be disastrous for the trust is predicted. The output at present of the distilleries outside of the trust is 19,000 barrels daily, while the consumption has never run over 40,000 daily.

sentiment of the meeting was opposed to granting more delay and in favor of going on
at once with the building up of a new register.
It is likely that action will be taken shortly.

Latest News Concerning the Proposed Sullivan-Slavin Match-The Browns
Win a Game at Cincinnati-To-mor-row's Hill Climbing Contest-Racing, Base Ball and Other Sporting News.

To-morrow will close the most successful race meeting ever held in St. Louis. Although it has rained on almost half the days of the meeting, the weather clerk having been unusually unkind and discourteous to the management, the attendance has been far in excess of any previous year. In fact, all the records in the way of attendance have been completely overshadowed by the present meeting and there has been very little friction of any kind to mar the success of the sport. President Wells has been untiring in his efforts to build up the track and in this he has had the untiring support of his associates, nearly all the officers assisting in the management, the association giving the closest personal attention. The result has been manifest. With anything like an enormous attendance at the track and the meeting will close in a blaze of glory. The Browns' Cup, it is expected, will be won by the old and upwards, will be the event of the day. It is a race of a mile and a quarter and a crowd of nearly five subscribers. Among the lot are nearly all the best horses of the ages eligible at the track. Victor O'Dowd, shoo-bled Red, sign, Ethel Gray, Faithful, Dr. Xave, W. G.
Morris, Glozier, Sportsman, Co. Wheatley,
Ed Hopper, Lucille, Manette and Co. Wheatley, all are entered and the starters will probably come from that bunch. Bobby Beach, Al Farrow, Proctor, Knott, Sinahs, Pollock, Roscoe, Star-
neystone, Jr., John Sherman, Catalpa and Lucy Washington are also among the subscribers, but none of them are likely to start, as they are not at the track.
There are enough high-class horses eligible among those at the track, however, to make the race the most interesting event of the meeting for horses years old and upwards.
The other races in the programme, and one of them was a best of three for top weights, a selling race of a mile and
fifty yards, a selling race of a mile and
fifty yards, a dash of a mile and one hundred yards for non-winners and
a mile and seventy yards race.

Yesterday was another day of surprises,
Texas Girl being the only favorite to win.
There were eight races in the programme,
and one of them was a best of three for top
weights, a selling race of a mile and
fifty yards, a selling race of a mile and
fifty yards, a dash of a mile and

a mile and seventy yards race.

EPIDEMIC OF BUGS.
More Insects in the Air Than Was Ever Known.
THEY ARE SUPPOSED TO HAVE BEEN BLOWN IN FROM THE COUNTRY.

Millions of Dead Bugs Found Under the Electric Lights-Electricity Said to Have Given Birth to a Number of New Varieties-Dr. Frank L. James Discusses the Epidemic.

Bugs, gnats, beetles, flies and other insects have made their unwelcome appearance in such numbers since the warm weather set in that many have become alarmed, and the presence of the pests has caused some comment. Patrons of open summer cars at all hours of the day and in the early evening are seen wiping their eyes or brushing their faces with their handkerchiefs as they pass in a column with the flying parties of winged insect life. On the electric cars running out into the sparsely settled and wooded parts of the city, it is not unusual to hear the rattling of the wheels of the beetle tribe or June bug class drop into their laps or on the exposed portions of their bodies.

A young lady on a Washington avenue car on her way to Forest Park ran screaming from the car, shouting to jump off, as she saw a large beetle crawling on her dress. She street while in a paroxysm of fear caused by a large black bug dropping down her sleeve and crawling on her dress. She out doors, and many of the insects gather every evening and cover the bottom of the car light bulbs with a thick layer of dead beetles. It is a common sight to see a swarm of insects about the electric lights in this city, but the lamp-cleaners report that the insects are not so many since the electric lights were put in the street, and that the variety is greater. They are of all sizes, shapes and colors.

A new species is noticed by the lamp-cleaners almost every week, until they become weary of the variety. The insects that the electric light is producing are varieties and monstrosities in the bug creation. The largest and most common is a black beetle, with a pair of long legs, and a pair of long antennae. It is a very common sight to see a swarm of these

While talking with the doctor, he reported reached out of the office window and caught three insects floating by. In the air they appeared to have green bodies but when examined under the microscope they changed to a beautiful
golden tint and became transparent as wax.
Their little, white, reflecting wings and their eyes or sets of eyes were pink and covered two-thirds of the head. The most striking feature of the insects was a short black line running down the center of the head and broke their tiny limbs.
Dr. James on examining them said they were harmless and not of poisonous nature, but when
examined under the microscope they changed to a beautiful
golden tint and became transparent as wax.
